WHEN DO YOU GET OFF?

DATING CAN BE HARD WORK

In When Do You Get Off? one lonely heart dates four potential suitors at their workplace to learn what they might really be like as a partner. After a full day of dating each one on the job they'll decide which they like best and meet them as they get off from work.

Most people spend approximately a third of their lives working and a person's chosen career can say a lot about them: are they brave, athletic, creative, altruistic or pedantic? Are they power crazed or demanding? Be they a baker, dentist, banker or zoo keeper.

In When Do You Get Off? one single will learn what their potential love matches are really like by getting involved in a hard day's work with them. Despite the old saying 'you should work to live, not live to work' the fact is most people are defined by the job they do and spend more time at work than anywhere else. So, what better way of to find out who someone really is, or show someone who you really are, than to invite them in to the workplace?

When Do You Get Off? is an original format created by the development team at Keshet Productions UK for ITVBe.
